

New EU Board Support Study launched

1 July: The Institute of Chartered Secretaries and Administrators (ICSA) and the European Confederation of Directors' Associations (ecoDA), has launched a Study designed to find out more about the role of corporate governance practitioners in supporting boards and their levels of influence within the EU.

Julia Casson, ICSA's EU Policy Adviser comments ' We'd like to gain a clearer insight into how well boards are being supported and how corporate governance is being addressed in the EU so that we can work together to promote and reinforce standards and to demonstrate their value, particularly in the current economic climate'

The Study is aimed at board support officers such as company secretaries, board secretaries, general counsel or corporate governance officers. Responses are also welcome from directors and others with an interest in the ways boards operate and in corporate governance generally.
